

EIGHT INCHES OF SNOW AT EDSON — ALL CONSTRUCTION CEASES

WET WEATHER POSTPONES OPENING OF THE EXHIBITION

ONLY SOME STOCK JUDGING IS GOING ON TODAY—BIG CROWDS OF STOCKMEN ARE ALREADY ON THE GROUNDS.

The opening, and all the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the Exhibition, have been postponed on account of the rain until tomorrow.

Today's original program will be put on tomorrow. Band music on Jasper avenue at 11 a.m. Director's luncheon, at which His Honor the Lieutenant Governor will be a guest at 12.30 and racing at 2 p.m.

There will be no racing today and the events that should have been held off will be distributed over the other three days.

Stock judging and the judging of indoor exhibits are the only parts of the program that will be carried out today.

At ten o'clock this morning a meeting of the directors was called in the Administration building at the grounds, and it was decided to put off the programme till tomorrow.

Even today the grounds present a busy spectacle. The ticket sellers are all in their places—the ground patrolled by police, and the fire station in full working order. There has been a large crowd of stockmen since the exhibitors, besides the Administration office for their final instructions and information, and a small army of circus employees is busy putting up Barnes' Circus which will be erected by two o'clock this afternoon.

BANQUET GIVEN TO BADEN-POWELL

Local Military Men Entertained
Their Distinguished Guest
Last Night

Last evening the Edmonton militia gave a banquet in Hurry's Cafe in honor of Major General Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell. Capt. George McLeod, (101st) was in the chair. Amongst those present were: His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea, Major Whitlake, Howard Stutchbury, on the right of the president; Major Jamieson, (101st), while on the left were Major-General Baden-Powell, Major Carstairs (101st), G. H. Babitt, Capt. Fromie, A.D.C., Major Lee, Major Gillespie, Major Marriott, Capt. Adamson, (19 A.M.R.), Capt. Watts (101st).

The toast of the King was drunk and the opening speech of Capt. McLeod was followed by a song by H. Stutchbury. Major Griesbach proposed the "Empire," which was replied to by the Lieut. Governor and Major Carstairs.

His Honor made a short speech, acknowledging the debt of the Empire to the guest of honor for his fine services in South Africa, and then turned to the subject of the boy scouts movement in Canada, where, he said, that was a movement was necessary to all the different nationalities which were letting into the country and which need binding into one whole.

A cornet solo by Oliver May, and a song by Major Marriott, followed, after which Mayor Lee extended a hearty welcome to the guest to the city. A brief speech from Major Jamieson bubbling over with humor was followed by a tribute in verse by the poet of the regiment to the "Brave Deiderdorf Making."

The toast to Major General Baden-Powell was drunk with loud and prolonged cheers. In his reply, the General paid a tribute to the work of the Canadian troops in South Africa. "I had the very valuable services of 'C' Battery by a most strenuous march and I was again indebted to the Canadian troops for their work in Transvaal. Again there were 31 officers and 1200 men in the constabulary many of them men in the North West Mounted Police.

Speaking of the work of the Boy Scouts, he said there were two aspects of the movement that should appeal to others and Imperialists. In the first place it is not an object to train boys to be soldiers.

The General expressed the opinion that he did not altogether believe in the military training of boys. Boys are always anxious for novelty, and if you give them at the outset the military drill and the glimmer of the uniform they get tired of it.

"The movement has certain characteristics which should be of special advantage to its development in a young country. The unit of the scouts is small; eight boys under a

WAS GUEST OF CLUB

B.-P. Guest of Honor at Edmonton Club Today Noon

This morning, Major General Baden-Powell drove round the city with the Lieut. Governor and at one o'clock he was the guest of the Edmonton Club at a luncheon given by the members of the club at which His Honor Lieut. Governor Bulyea, Mayor Lee, Major Griesbach and other prominent citizens were present.

This afternoon General Baden-Powell will leave on the 3 o'clock train from Strathcona for Calgary.

IS EPIDEMIC OF TYPHOID COMING

Dr. Whitlaw Rather Thinks
There Will Be a Lot of It
Next Month

SHOULD BE VERY CAREFUL

Cases Are Coming in From Construction Camps and Coal Mines

"Up to the month of August there has been typhoid in Edmonton for 1910, there has been since 1905, but there are cases beginning to show now, and it is altogether likely that there will be an increase of typhoid in the city during the months of September and October."

Dr. Whitlaw, medical health officer, made the above statement to the Capital this morning. "There is a lot of typhoid coming from the construction camps and coal mines," continued Dr. Whitlaw, "and the cases are seldom sent to the hospitals right away, on account of the fact that medical attention is not called as soon as the disease develops. In fact, the patients are kept in inferior homes."

"Typhoid is a contagious disease, but it is not infectious, and it is contracted only by contact, and then through the mouth."

Dr. Whitlaw has compiled statistics as to typhoid for the past nine years, which are to be sent to the conservation commission at Ottawa. The table shows that from 1901 to the end of 1905 deaths in the city from typhoid were not frequent. In

LATEST THEORY IN MURDER MYSTERY

Was Man Lured to Spot By Two Men Who Planned Robbery

POLICE HAVE NO CLUE YET

Trying to Find Out Who the Two Men From Winnipeg Are

The latest theory in connection with the murder of Roman Fedenik, the Galician who met his death last Friday night, is that he was lured to the spot where he was found on Sunday afternoon, and there set upon and done to death. It has been established that Fedenik went to an employment bureau on First street on the day of the murder and secured employment in the country, and that his intentions were to leave the city that night.

It is thought that he was later met by two men, who were aware of the fact that he was in possession of a fairly large sum of money, and advised to spend the night with them, and leave the city the next day. They managed to lead him to the place where his mutilated body was found under the pretext that their place of residence was in the neighborhood.

The identity of the two men who figured in the five who slept at the C. N. station, which included Fedenik, Evan Small, and Billy Chizhan, has not yet been established. The two men are supposed to be from Winnipeg, and they came to town from the Foley, Welsh & Stewart construction camp west of Wolf creek, with the others on Thursday night.

That the two seemingly intoxicated men who were seen in the neighborhood where Fedenik's body was found, on the night of the murder, had nothing to do with the man's death, the police are satisfied. These two were Mike Sawicki, who lives in Nor-

SECURED THE LAND, HOAX WAS FAILURE

Two Challenger Brothers of Edgerton Got Their Homesteads All Right

THE CROWD SYMPATHIZED

And So No Effort Was Made to Keep Them From Getting in First Place

In spite of the unfortunate episode of yesterday when an attempt was made to wrest from them their land, success at length crowned the efforts of the Challenge Brothers of Edgerton, to obtain the much coveted homesteads. The telegram sent by Mr. K. W. McKenzie, Dominion Land Agent, apprising them of the fraud and instructing them to return, caught them at Holden, where they alighted to catch the evening train for Edmonton.

On their arrival at Edmonton a considerable number had gathered at the land office, and as feeling ran very high in their favor, no attempt was made to dispute their place at the head of the line, which they at once resumed. Their rivals realized that it was useless to continue their wait and they were left to themselves. At one o'clock, this morning, the doors of the land office were thrown open and they triumphantly entered their applications for the land, after which they left for their home.

There is as yet no clue to the perpetrators of yesterday's fraud. As the telegram did not come from any of the local offices, it will be next to impossible to discover the boy who delivered the notice, who was sent by him. Whoever the guilty party was, he had the discretion to keep himself in the background, and no one attempted to displace the Challengers in the line. The matter is in the hands of the police and the telegraph companies, but as yet no discoveries have been made as to the guilty party

HEAVY FALL OF THE BEAUTIFUL COVERS COUNTRY TO THE WEST

TEN YEARS AGO

The last time last snow fell in August in this district was in 1900, according to information given out at the meteorological station this morning. On that occasion an inch of snow fell. The occurrence is therefore unusual.

SNOW STARTLED EDMONTONITES

Quite a Little Blizzard During the Morning, But It Soon Melted

NO DAMAGE TO CROPS YET

Weather Station Reports One Fifth of An Inch of Snow and Rain

With the ringing of an alarm clock this morning, Edmonton woke up, jumped out of bed, and on putting up the blind, staggered back at the sight of a December snow storm. It wondered if it had done the Rip Van Winkle act, and had been sleeping since last autumn, and all this rot about the Waterways Railway, the royal commission, change in government, the visit of Laurier, the southern drought, etc., did not figure in one fancy dream.

As a matter of fact, there was no prolonged sleep, and all those things were realities, and also the August snow storm.

Inquiry at the local meteorological station this morning elicited the information that there was a fall of one-fifth of an inch of snow and rain last night, while the lowest temperature was one degree above freezing. The officials at the station said that at the present advanced state of the crops it would take about five or six degrees of frost to do any damage in that regard. As long as the weather remained cloudy, there was no fear of frost, however, but the officials are not sanguine as to conditions if a clearing should take place today, as it is probable that a severe frost would then set in.

Besides putting a damper on the feelings of everybody, the weather has certainly played havoc with the initial day of the exhibition. The crowd at the grounds today is so small that it is hard to see it, while it does clear up, that the evenings program will be completely spoiled.

There is only one good effect that will follow this weather, and that is that it will soften the ground on the new homesteads and will permit of a lot of clearing. The ground has been very hard up to the present, and homesteaders have been experiencing difficulties.

Work was to have started this morning on the Strathcona side of the high-level bridge, but owing to the state of the weather operations were postponed.

TWO RETURN FROM CORNWALL PARTY

Mr. J. H. Morris of Edmonton and Mr. Arthur Macfarlan of New York returned to the city yesterday from the Peace River, whither they accompanied the party of journalists with Mr. J. K. Cornwall. They made record time from Fort Vermilion, having left there eleven days ago. While at Vermilion they visited the Falls, the experimental farm and other points of interest. Everything looks as well or even better than farther south and nowhere throughout the whole Peace River Valley were there signs of frost.

EIGHT INCHES OF SNOW AT EDSON AND SIX INCHES AT WOLF CREEK—CONSTRUCTION WORK ON THE G. T. P. HAS BEEN STOPPED — STORM APPEARS TO BE TRAVELLING EAST TOWARD EDMONTON.

(Special to the Capital)

Wolf Creek, Alta., Aug. 23.—Heavy fall of snow here all day yesterday and continuing today. Six inches on the ground now. Construction work has been stopped and crops are damaged. Eight inches of snow at Edson and all work has been brought to a halt.

Gainsford, Alta., Aug. 23.—Rain fell most of the night, turning to heavy snow this morning. About one inch now on the ground and still falling.

Tofield, Alta., Aug. 23.—Rained here a little this morning, clearing.

Viking, Alta., Aug. 23.—Cloudy and cool, light rainfalls. Wainwright, Alta., Aug. 23.—Cloudy and cool, little rain during night.

(Special to the Capital)

Calgary, Aug. 23.—It rained here last night and this morning there was a very slight fall of snow, not enough to cover the ground. There has been no frost of any account and though it has been cold and raw the crops will not suffer.

(By Phone to the Daily Capital.)

Wabunan, Aug. 23, 1.30 p.m.—A quantity of snow fell here this morning, although the weather is brightening up now. There has been no frost and the crops are all done exceedingly well.

The summer visitors are still here, as there has been no thought that the bad weather will last. Those living in tents have not found the weather too unpleasant.

WHITE BLANKET OVER DUCK SEASON OPENING

BUT AS WEATHER MAY KEEP ENTHUSIASTS AT HOME FOR FEW DAYS, IT MAY BE A GOOD THING, AS YOUNG DUCKS WILL HAVE CHANCE TO GROW A LITTLE MORE.

With the best prospects in many years, the 1910 game season opened today throughout the province, and many of the younger sportsmen are now ready to go out into the country and start the mall rolling in the smaller lakes and sloughs.

The ducks this season are the most abundant state that Edmontonians have known for a long time, while the prairie chicken are innumerable. This condition of affairs has been mainly brought about by the dry season, when the hatching of eggs was assisted.

Good Around Beaver Hills In the Edmonton district the most favorable place for duck and chicken shooting is in the south and east, especially east of the Beaver Hills.

The ducks are so numerous on this side, but as it is the habit of the birds to follow the mountains to the north, they are very plentiful in the mountains and on the other side. Prairie chicken can be found anywhere.

Not Favorable Opening

The season, like the exhibition, is not having a very auspicious opening, as far as the weather is concerned, but it will have the good effect of keeping the game hunters at home for a time, and the birds will have some sort of chance to protect themselves.

METAL WORKERS OUT ON STRIKE

Only About Two Dozen in the City and There Are Lots of Non-Union Men Here

The threatened strike of the Sheet Metal Workers Union became a fact this morning. For some time discontent has been rife among the tinmiths employed in building operations, but a friendly settlement was looked for.

Negotiations have been on foot, since the first of June, for the recognition of the union and the fixing of a minimum rate of 30 cents per hour for an eight hour day. The demand was not unreasonable, but the other side, who had made on the basis of the old rate of paying, a change at this juncture would entail a serious reduction of profits, to the employers. They requested a postponement of a change at the same time tacitly recognizing the union by their negotiations. But the union refused to wait till next year; hence the contractors, represented by the Master Metal Workers Association of the Builders Exchange, in view of the approaching exhibition, and the opening of the duck season, proposed, as a compromise, that the two natives meet on next Monday night and draw up an agreement to hold till the first of the year. However, the Metal Workers Union refused any postponement and the two parties failing to agree, a strike was at once called on the receipt of permission from headquarters.

The Metal Workers Union is a recently organized branch of an international organization of the same name. Exclusive of apprentices it embraces some two dozen workers in the city. The success of the strike is seriously threatened by the presence of a large number of non-union men in the city. Meanwhile, the foremen being allowed to continue, the metal work will go on to a certain extent and the builders anticipate no delay in building operations.

DOWNIE'S DOG AND PONY SHOWS

Arrived in the City Yesterday—Street Parade and Two Performances Today

There arrived in the city yesterday Downie's Dog and Pony Shows and long before people were stirring yesterday morning the tents were pitched on the lot on Second street opposite the C. N. R. depot and the day spent in rest for the performers and animals and during the day large numbers visited the small tented city. The show has the reputation of being the best of its kind on the road and last week played to crowded tents at Winnipeg. The people of Edmonton have never before had an opportunity of seeing this show and this afternoon performance attracted a goodly number and this evening the tent will probably be filled.

The official announcement that the show is in the city was made this noon in the street parade which passed through the main streets and it was a most creditable showing considering the size of the aggregation, the pretty little ponies, dogs and the tiny elephant being admired by all. On its return the doors to the afternoon performance were opened and when the show started at 2 o'clock there was an enthusiastic crowd in attendance, and the various acts were greatly appreciated. The dog acts were particularly pleasing and showed careful training and handling.

Probably the one act which attracted the most attention was that in which "Chief" was the star actor. "Chief" is an elephant, and although he is twenty-seven years old he is advertised to be the smallest elephant in the world, and it is doubtful if this claim can be disputed. He proved a great attraction with the children. Among the attractions was a model of a flying machine, the workings of which were explained at the performance.

ance this afternoon. It is a good clean little show and deserving of patronage.

Another performance will be given this evening and tomorrow.

There is nothing in common between courtesy and etiquette. Courtesy is the flower of good breeding; etiquette the "artificial manufacture of social pedantry. Etiquette may change from one year to another; courtesy is immortal.

Honest people may have a rocking chair apiece in heaven, but there'll be nothing easy for them in this world.

THE ACME CO. LTD. ATTRACTIONS:—Their low prices--Their qualities--Their advance styles--Their large assortments.

Quality goods may be bought here for less than elsewhere. Our representatives are constantly on the "qui-vive" in order to give FASHIONS and SERVICE equal to the large Eastern Cities—they make frequent visits to the style and manufacturing centres, hence our ability to keep posted and to supply at moderate cost.

Shipments for fall are now crowding our receiving rooms and as rapidly as they can be opened up we shall present new goods for your inspection.

Season's First Arrival of Furs

See exhibition in front window

A very pleasing surprise we are convinced will be the moderate prices prevailing on our whole stock of furs, comparing favorably with preceding seasons in face of the well known and already noticeable increase elsewhere—explanation being that our representative, endowed with adequate purchasing facilities and making an exhaustive tour of all the prominent manufacturing furriers of the East, made excellent purchases in the interest of this firm and its patrons.

Remember the Acme Co. Ltd. when seeking Quality Furs.

THE INQUEST YESTERDAY

Unable to Trace Movements of Kedeniuk on Friday Afternoon and Evening

As the result of evidence submitted at the first session of the coroner's jury empanelled to enquire into the death of Roman Kedeniuk, the Gallician who met death by murder on last Friday night, which was held at the police station yesterday afternoon, two of the witnesses, Evan Small and Billy Uzhian are now held by the police.

There is no charge against them, but the police consider their knowledge of the events leading up to the murder of sufficient importance for their detention.

The jury was empanelled at Connelly and McKinnon's undertaking establishment in Rice Street, where the remains of the murdered man were viewed. An adjournment was then made to the police station, where the taking of evidence was proceeded with. Coroner Braithwaite presided while Crown Attorney Cogswell was also present.

Sergeant Campbell, the first witness, outlined the story of the discovery of the body by Herman, and the reporting of the matter to the police by A. A. Matthews. He told of the arrival of the police at the scene of the crime, and the uncovering of the body, and described the surroundings.

Knew Him Well

Evan Small, testified through an interpreter to having known the deceased for thirteen or fourteen years. He stated that he and Kedeniuk went out on the G.T.P. line together about four months ago, where he (the witness) was employed on the shovelling gang. Kedeniuk was given work in the stable.

Small stated that he arrived in Edmonton late on Thursday night and that there were with him besides Kedeniuk, a man named Billy Uzhian and two others, whose names he did not know, but whom he said hailed from Winnipeg. On the arrival of the five in the city, preparations were made to spend the night at the station, and arranging their blankets, they lay down on the side of the platform close to the building. Small stated that Kedeniuk had four G.T.P. time checks with him.

Kedeniuk Cashed Checks.

In the morning the witness stated that he went to a barber shop on Jasper Avenue, the location of which he could only explain as being opposite a picture show. Uzhian went into the shop with him and they had their hair cut together. On coming out they rejoined Kedeniuk, and the two men from Winnipeg. They all went to the bank where Kedeniuk cashed his checks for $100 in eleven one hundred dollar bills, one five and two ones. After that an adjournment was made to the Windsor Hotel. Subsequently the two Winnipeg men walked down First Street together on the east side, while the witness and Uzhian went to an employment bureau on the west side of First Street. Kedeniuk started off for the C.N.R. station with the intention of claiming his baggage, which he had checked in the parcel office. That was the last that witness saw of Kedeniuk alive.

Questioned by Crown Attorney Cogswell as to the identity of the two Winnipeg men, the witness stated that he did not know who they were.

Did He Have Another Name?

Uzhian was asked by Crown Attorney Cogswell if Kedeniuk had ever gone under another name than the one he is now known as. The witness replied in the negative, and also denied that either Small or himself while at the construction camp were known by different names.

Small was brought back to the stand to be questioned on this point, and he gave information contrary to that of Uzhian. He stated that Kedeniuk, when he first came from Winnipeg, had travelled on another man's ticket, using the original purchaser's name, which was Fred Cosac. At the camp he also went under that name. Small also identified the clothing, but stated that he had never seen the knife.

The inquest was adjourned until Wednesday night.

street; his eyes glaring, his race white, into the dusky blue of the falling twilight.

Chapter 14

THE scene in the hotel office had left Jensen in a state of mental distraction in which reason was in abeyance.

In the confusion she had slipped into the little sitting room unnoticed, feeling a sense almost of physical sickness, to sit in the half light, listening to the diminishing noises of the spilling crowd. She was wind swept, storm tossed, in the grip of primal emotions. The surprise had shocked her, and the strange appeal of the violin had disturbed her equanimity.

The significant words of availing spoken in the office had come to her distinctly. In their light she had read the pitiless puzzle of that gaze that had held her motionless on the balcony. Hugh had forgotten the past—all of it, its crime, its penalty. In forgetting the past he had forgotten even her, his wife. Yet in some mysterious way her face had been familiar to him. It had leached for an instant the spring of the beforeshadowed memory.

As she gazed through the transient twilight, past the salvage of the town, and into the somber mountaina slope, she struck the horse sharply with her crop. He who had entrapped her, who had married her under the shadow of a criminal act, who had broken her future with him, whose whole bright life had crashed down in black ruin—could such a one look as he had looked at her? Could he make such music that had swayed her heart?

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE EMPIRE

The Burgomaster

Mr. Weinburg is with us again, and in his present offering, "The Burgomaster," is even more entertaining than on his former appearance. Last night the Empire was crowded to capacity and from the laughter and applause manifested throughout the performance, it was evidently a big hit. Encores were the order of the night and almost every song was recalled two or three times.

Mr. Weinburg is supported by a large company, mostly girls, who render the musical songs and intricate dances in a happy manner. In addition the girls have well trained voices and are good to look at. A strong male chorus should not be overlooked as they made one of the hits of the evening in the unaccompanied musical song, "College Days."

There is a slight plot running throughout the opera which tells of an old Dutch governor of New Amsterdam, who threatened by an Indian uprising, drinks liquor containing a strong opiate and goes into a sleep of two hundred and fifty years duration. The last two acts deal with the adventures of the Burgomaster and his faithful fawn, Doodles, when they awaken in the modern metropolis, New York.

Mr. Weinburg, who created the role of the Burgomaster in the original production, was the chief funmaker last evening and he was easily assisted by Wm. Conley as Doodle Van Kull, the secretary. Phemie Lockhart made a most captivating boy and sang her way into the hearts of the audience. Julia Curtis, as the girl from Chicago, has a convincing stage presence and a musical contralto voice, the only drawback being that she has not more songs. Etta Lockhart and Geo. McKinnon were also good in their respective parts.

"The Burgomaster" is from prologue to finale a exchange of tuncful melodies some of the most popular last evening being "The Tale of the Kangaroo," "Cupid Does Not Marry" and "The Hypnotist."

Judging from the appreciation shown last evening, "The Burgomaster" should fill the Empire during its entire week's engagement.

AT THE LYCEUM

The production of Sherman's musical comedy company at the Lyceum last night was "The Edmonton Exhibition." There was nothing noteworthy about the production which was a caricature of the typical country fair, laughable in its way. The musical numbers led by Miss Mable Leonomie and Miss Grace Calbreth were very catchy and the costumes in which they were rendered made them quite effective.

Taking it altogether, "The Edmonton Exhibition" is a laughable sight enlivened by dainty music and a pretty chorus.

About Town

The members of the Calceonian Society are holding their regular monthly dance in the Separate School hall on Thursday evening at 8.30 and no effort is being spared to make the dance as great a success as any in the past. The purveying and ices are being handled by a few lady friends and Sloan's orchestra will again be in attendance. A large attendance is expected as Thursday is a holiday and there will be a large number of visitors in the city for the fair. A hearty invitation is extended to all Scotchmen and friends whether visitors or not and a good night's enjoyment is guaranteed.

Four Galicians, B. Laxroski, J. Roskovich, I. Kaskow, and M. Roskovich, were charged in the police court yesterday afternoon with false pretences. It is alleged that the men, who are employees at the Ritchie Coal Company, presented forged time checks. It is the custom in the mine for the foreman to give each workman a check for each car load he sends out of the mine. On one occasion each of the men are alleged to have presented ten checks for payment by the cashier, while the foreman claims he only gave each man four. The case came up again this morning, but was adjourned again until this afternoon. Four drunks were assessed the usual fine.

Mr. E. M. Joyean, a fur buyer from Pas Mission on the Hudson's Bay Railroad is in the city today.

$25,000 worth of furs changed hands at the Mission last spring and, he said, that he had known Indians come 300 miles to sell their furs there. Speaking of the Indians Mr. Joyean said that the old idea of how fur trading was carried on at the cost of the Indians should be done away with. "The Indians," he said, "are highly civilized and speak English very well and even most of them can read. They get the circulars sent round by the big fur houses, quoting prices, and, having read them, are able to determine what price they ought to get for their furs. Last spring some of us even paid too high a price for furs and lost money on it. They always get the full value of their furs in money."

Jack! How is it that Mrs. Brown can get a quiet horse and drive her lady friends and you cannot get one safe for me. Well, my dear, Brown deals at Horner's Livery and you phone 2234 and order one. Oh, Jack, What a dear.

BUSINESS QUIET UP IN DAWSON CITY

Mr. L. Heureux, an Arrival From the Yukon, Tells of Conditions There

Mr. L. Heureux, of Dawson City, arrived in town yesterday from the Yukon. He was the owner of a large hotel in Dawson up till two and a half months ago, when he sold out his business.

"Dawson is not growing," he said, "the city is a fine one, and people live just as well there as they do in any city in the east, but business is very quiet."

Mr. L. Heureux then went on to tell of the cost of living which is still dear. "But things will get cheaper," he said, "they are still getting large quantities of gold from the creeks and there is a very rich vein there which up to the present has not been worked. The grade is so low that it will cost the company a lot of money. However, they are going to work this mine which will mean a large increase in the output of the district. When this happens everything will get cheaper."

The city itself is not growing, Mr. L. Heureux states, although they have all the latest improvements, "but it's good yet for some time," he concluded.

Mr. L. Heureux is looking around Edmonton with a view to establishing a business here.

leader. Thus you will see that it can be started in any centre of population however small.

"The boys are taught discipline. They are taught to play the game so that their side may win, and not merely so that they may gain glory for themselves."

"Further the organization extends beyond the seas to the sister dominions. The scouts are to be found in Australia, South Africa and New Zealand, and not only there but in Gibraltar, in parts of India and in places so remote as Teintin. It forms a standard of efficiency which leads to military efficiency, though the organization is not a military organization. "If you can encourage young fellows to take an interest in the work you will be doing something in the interests not only of this country, but of the world at large. It is the spirit of the organization you can keep them from doing many things merely by the force there is in the phrase 'A scout does not do this or that.' You let him know you expect him to do the right thing, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred he does the right thing."

1905 the number was four, while in the next year the number jumped to 29. At that time the system of sanitary pails was inaugurated, and Dr. Whitelaw attributes the big increase to that fact. He is supported in his contention by the fact that in the succeeding four years, the number of deaths was on the decline, while at the same time the sanitary pails were being gradually done away with. In 1909 there was one death in every ten cases of typhoid which was contracted in the city, while of those cases which came in from the country, there was one death in every twelve.

wood, and Billy Poltowski, two individuals whose appearance before the police magistrate is periodical.

The identity of the man who met Arthur Jackson on the night of the murder, and who seemed to take an interest in what was going on, is Wm. Samaka, who keeps a butcher shop on Kinistino avenue. Samaka was then on his way home from town, and was taking his usual route.

The post mortem examination of the remains, which has been delayed for some reason or other, will take place this afternoon.

On reascending the river eighteen hours were seen, several of which fell victim to the mirrods of the party. At Peace River crossing Mr. Morris and Mr. Macfarlane left the party, which continued on up the Peace and over to Spirit River and Grande Prairie by trail. Settlers were met all along the route, most of them bound for Grande Prairie. Only one party was dissatisfied and they had allowed their horses to wander into the muskegs, where they contracted foot rot. The people along the route made every effort to help the unfortunate ones, so as to prevent a knacker going out.

If adventure or hardship were looked for the trip was certainly uneventful, for from start to finish it was managed without a hitch.

At the same time a strenuous pace was set, but Mr. Morris reports that every one did his best and accepted even the worst with the best of spirits. The party will return on August 29th.
